

User test noter

User 1:

Has difficulty controlling the bus in the menu

Swaps chef a lot

Does big movements with plate

Says time is stressing him

Does not realise theres an order list

User 2:

Xbox:

Does not realise theres an order list

Hit swap chef when he wanted to press A

“Spiller jeg kun 1 person?”

“Okay jeg ka swap”

Didn't know where A was before he looked at the guide

Glad that he didn't need to chop the whole time like the character did

Had difficulty with the northwest angle with the plate

Tried to stand up later with plate and thought it helped a bit

Threw the food instead of chopping, which is the same that happens when they played with xbox

User 3:

Swap chef when they want to press A

“Fuck det er lang tid siden jeg har spillet Wii”

Couldn't find A button even with picture

Says he has been a waiter in a restaurant before

Continued chopping and test supervisor let him know he didnt need to and he stopped

Surprised when the time started in the tutorial

Learned that he can start chopping and then swap character to go do more stuff at the same time

The user never activated the vibration by mistake

The user was excited to show how good he actually was by playing with an xbox controller

Knew lb and rb from fifa

User 4:

Xbox:

Not as familiar with xbox controllers like other people were

Had to look at the xbox controller before pressing buttons

Says it's hard to read tutorial and read the buttons irl

Plate and knife:

Continued to chop and stopped whne we said she didn't need to

Seems even better and maybe faster than when using xbox controller, because they know what to do now
Threw food at some point
Used swap chef button to save time, also when chopping
Didn't vibrate controller
Said it was more fun than xbox

User 5:
Plate:
Same chopping thing
Complained about the plate arm

Xbox controller:
Hasn't played it with xbox controller before
Played it with switch

User 6:
Xbox controller:
Hasn't played game before but was quicker than most it seems
Learned chop swap quickly

Plate:
Pressed Dash by mistake when he wanted to press A
Went smoothly
He got it to vibrate once, but had nothing to drop
Threw salad across the map and had to go get, it was because he moved knife too much
Dropped when chopping
Didn't want to stand up, had arms high enough so table wasn't in the way
When there was 10 seconds left the plate stopped responding, we restarted the controller and it worked again for a bit and then stopped

User 7:
Plate:
Learned you can swap chef without the game or us telling her
Kept chopping and we told she didn't need to and she stopped
Used swap a lot to move ingredients between chars using the table
Went smoothly, didn't vibrate, throw or drop items
Didn't place ingredients on wrong tables
Started chopping and swapped character to dave time

Xbox:
Thinks they will do worse with xbox
Has to look at controller to see where buttons are Learned where they were after using them one time
Went smoothly

User 8:

Xbox:

Watched tutorial

Plate:

Threw by mistake once by moving knife too much

Knew she didn't have to keep chopping which she learned from xbox gameplay

Vibrated twice

Learned she can put stuff on table

Panic in game last second and swapped chef twice fast so didn't make the last meal in time

User 9:

Plate:

Pressed B when A needs to be pressed

Moves the plate controller to the sides instead of tilting it

User 10:

Xbox:

Was quick to learn the game

Plate:

Continued chopping but learned that they can swap chef and it will continue chopping

Went smoothly, didnt vibrate, throw or drop items
